WE NOMINATE

the 58 active and retired members of Princeton University's Department of Grounds and Buildings who were honored this week at a unique departmental ceremony for having served the University for a quarter-century or longer. Representing 22 different occupational classifications, which ranged from front-office executives to such dexterous specialists as electricians, masons and tinsmiths, the group assembling in Nassau Hall came within 21 years of memorializing the date the historic structure was completed. Nassau Hall was finished in 1756; Thursday's gathering had served a total of 1,787 years.

Seven of those receiving the awards authorized by the University Board of Trustees matriculated at Old Nassau before Woodrow Wilson departed from the Princeton scene, while another trio, one of whom retired in 1938, entered the University's employ during the presidency of Wilson's predecessor, Francis Landey Patton. Forty-four of the honorees, including the two women cited, are still on active duty.

The roster of those singled out for highest honors follows in order of seniority with years of service listed in the parenthesized figures: James Higgins (47); Frederick Apgar, Edward Meehan (46); John Slayback (42); David Turney (41); Thomas Davison (40); Samuel Payne, Dominic Procaccini (38); Henry Mack, Michael Nini, Roger McManimon (37); Patrick Harris, Ernest Drake, Helen King (36); Edward MacMillan, Joseph Wilcox (34); Samuel Davison, Louis Nini (33); Christopher Van Horn, George Geherty, Charles Mack (31); George Bibbes, Sebastiao Crocetti, Dominico Germani, William Hughes, Thomas Murray, George Willis, Thomas Young (30).

Also, Innocenzo Venta, Edmund Regan (29); John Bayles, Antonio Dia Forli, Andrew McIntosh, James Whitlow (28); A. D. Baldwin, Leon Clothier, Dametrio Crocetti, George Meyers, Enrico Pirone, Christy Toto (27); William Beck, John Cooper, Joseph Daly, Wildred Goeke, David Hume, Charles Lawton, William Montgomery, Antonio Sasso, Russell Taylor, Raymond Vandewater, Edward Van Horn (26); George Carlton, Alfred Compton, Albert Harrison, Margaret Pierre, William Pietrinferno, Ammerman Stout, Russell Snedeker (25).

For their noteworthy contributions to the development of a great University; for maintaining the proper balance between what is known as Town and those elements representing Gown; for their remarkable achievements in their own right: the above-named are TOWN TOPICS' nominees for Democratic Decision. By the afternoon of June 30, now less than a week away, Federal law requires that Princeton have a new postmaster to replace the retiring Stephen W. Margerum. Regulations dictate that he either be an interim appointee to serve until a Civil Service examination is announced for the position, or that he be promoted from the ranks of postal employees within the area. If the latter course is followed, his appointment may be permanent from the outset.

After planning and counter-planning that dated back over several months, it looked as if the answer had been reached. Any appointment must go through Congress, and with the present majority Democratic, it was members of that party in Princeton who held the power to make the choice.

With the deadline drawing near, their top nominee for the position was Charles F. Murray, a 49-year-old postal clerk with 27 years of service in the Princeton Post Office behind him. From the Democrats' point of view, he filled the bill perfectly in that (1) his appointment would conform to political patronage and (2) his quarter-century-plus experience should assure smooth operation of an integral part of the Princeton business scene whose annual gross receipts are well over $1,000,000.

Not to Be Trusted. If it hadn't been going on so long, you could say that the Weather Man had been feeling the effects of his own heat wave. But the odd quirks of 1949's record in New Jersey had been noticeable for months:

March was the driest such month since statistics began to be kept 70 years ago. The last half of April was colder than the first half, whereas May set heat records (94 degrees) in its first fortnight and an all-time low (39) on Memorial Day. June '48 was the wettest such month on record, but the drought that began last May 29 has broken all previous marks for consecutive dry days. Of all the States in the East, New Jersey has apparently been the worst hit in crop losses.

Miscellany. Petitions circulated by the Joint Safety Committee (part of the Council of Community Services) have been presented to the University asking it to provide more adequate fencing around the abandoned Spruce Street quarry—Continued on Page 6

It's New to Us

Nylon Newcomers. There seems to be no end to the versatility and variety of nylon as a fabric; and in the form of half-slips and white uniforms, it is entirely different and equally satisfactory.

The half-slips are a brand new tricot (knit) nylon that feels somewhat like silk jersey, but is far filmer and yet has more body to it. That may sound like an odd combination but it's the best way we can describe its light coolness that doesn't pull and stretch in all directions. The lace-edged slips are of the new in-between length that, unlike many we have seen, does not show miles below this year's skirts. Being nylon, they are extremely fast dryers, needing no ironing whatsoever; and they come in sizes 24 to 30, for $2.98, at Bailey's, 14 Witherspoon.

The white uniforms are also of a new form of nylon, only this time it has more the feel of crepe. We really should apologize to nylon-producers for comparing it to other fabrics; but know of no other way to give you the picture without your seeing it. This material, too, has a lot of body, no bagging and good fit.

The uniforms come in five different styles, most of them much more attractive than the average uniform, all with long or short sleeves. We particularly liked a Peter Pan-collared model which buttons up the front of the skirt with the pearl buttons branching off up the top to the side of the shoulder. It is trim, practical and good-looking. Sizes are 10 to 42, prices $10.95 and $12.95, also at Bailey's.

Playtex Bathing Cap. It's hard to find anything really new in bathing caps, but this one of smooth, tough Playtex comes as near to it as anything we have seen. Regrettably, we haven't had a chance to swim in it; but we have tried it on and it fits like a dream, both from a comfort and appearance standpoint. Four Princeton Sets the Pace. Last March 12, Princeton's basketball team lost to Penn, then had to sit back hoping Harvard would heat Yale to force Tiger & Bulldog into a championship playoff. The Crimson failed to oblige. On Monday afternoon, however, the Elis were considerably more thoughtful, pasting a 3-0 shutout on the Cambridge nine and thereby giving Princeton sole title to first place in the Eastern League.

In duplicating Charlie Caldwell's 1945 feat of winning the pennant in his first year as coach, Emerson Dickman brought his young squad along with visible progress. Pressure and inexperience scored at first, as the Tigers dropped two of their first three league games.

In their last six, however, they lost only to Brown while shutting out Harvard and Yale and bowling over Army, Cornell and Penn with relative ease. Dartmouth, defending champion, won its first five and seemed sure to repeat until it hit the chutes for a losing streak of four in a row. The championship is Old Nassau's fourth in the last nine years.

Princeton's entry in the Twin-M League is also setting a fast pace, completing the first half of its season in the circuit's top slot. A red-hot 12-and-2 record has served to give the locals the lead in the eight-team circuit. Belle Mead, with 11-and-3, is the runner-up at the halfway mark, followed by Hightstown, Blawenburg, Monmouth Junction, Pennington, Plainsboro and Hopewell—which has lost 14 straight.

Manager Tom Brophy has bagged five of his team's victories and is yet to be beaten. Bob DiGiovanni and Wilson Comerford both have three wins against a single defeat, while Andy Drummond is 1-and-0.

Roy Swingler, who starred at Brown, is handling the catching chores. The infield shapes up with Jim Brown at first, Larry Friel, second, Nick Ross, third, Joe Coffee, short; Jack Sweeney, Joe Friel and Jack Petrone on the pocket line. Sweeney, currently hitting around .500, is leading an offense that has been good for 8 to 10 runs per seven-inning game.

Scheduled to play tail-end Hopewell this Thursday evening, the Princeton aggregation is working — Continued on Page 8

News of the Theatres

THE PLAYHOUSE

Tulsa (Thurs.-Sat.) needs a spectacular fire roaring through a huge Oklahoma oil field to redeem a rather ordinary story about the quest for "black gold." Susan Hayward, Robert Preston.

Neptune's Daughter (Sun.-Wed.) is a typical hot-weather musical: curvaceous Esther Williams and a swimming chorus, music by Xavier Cugat, comedy by Red Skelton and a thoroughly thin plot with a mistaken identity theme. Colorful, gay but very lightweight entertainment.

Colorado Territory (Thurs.-Sat.) casts Joel McCrea as an ex-convict who tries to go straight only to participate in a train robbery and climactic chase across a mountain-side. Not short of action but often in need of a light touch to replace the grim, death-dealing mood.

THE GARDEN

Big Jack (Fri.-Sat.) tells of a young 19th century doctor (Richard Conte) who goes corpse-hunting to study surgery, encounters a peck of trouble and a lovable old bandit (Wallace Berry) who bails him out. One of 1949's poorer films.

The Red Shoes (Mon.-Wed.), based on a Hans Christian Anderson tale, becomes a sensitive drama of life in a ballet company. A real-life romance and the Anderson fairy tale (about the ballet dancer who got the red shoes she dreamed of only to find they bewitched her feet into constant dancing) are absorbing dual themes in the plot. It is the elaborate settings, music and ballet, however, for which the film is most noteworthy.

Mr. Smith Goes to Washington (Thurs.) One of James Stewart's older (1939) but delightful comedy-dramas about an inexperienced, idealistic Congressman who takes Washington by storm.

raised lines around the inside edge, plus a good close grip on the head, would seem to give it a protection certainly equal, and possibly superior, to any cap we've ever worn. It really stands out, however, in its durability. We actually watched Mr. Thorne (they're at Thorne's Drug Store) pull the cap in all directions with a good strong pull, and he couldn't put a tear in it. If you don't believe us, ask for a demonstration! The snaps on the adjustable chin strap are rust-proof, and the colors—pastel blue, pink, yellow, plus white—are very nice. The price is 98 cents.

Cologne Double-Header. Another new item at Thorne's is not the most novel thing we've ever told you about; but it is a particularly appealing job of packaging along toiletry lines. Evyan has brought out a smooth gold (inside and out) box in which nest two bottles of their well-known colognes, "White Shoulders" and "Gay Diversion." They're both good scents, different but not too extreme; and the gift package, gayly entitled "Surprise," would be a most appealing summer present (at $2.75 plus tax) for almost any one feminine on almost any occasion.

SPORTS IN SHORT

—On a skeln of nine straight, hasn't lost in its two-a-week schedule since May 16.

"The second half of the season will find the team at home each Monday at 6:15. It's a brand of baseball any fan will enjoy watching.

Short Notes. Whereas Princeton-
Cornell topped Oxford-Cambridge, 9-4, with relative ease, the visiting British trackmen scored an 8-5 triumph over Harvard and Yale. . . .
A Sisler, brother of Dick who plays for the Phils and son of the famous George, is in Princeton's class of 1953 . . . he's a pitcher. . . .
Princeton's 150-lb. and heavyweight crews, the latter representing Cottage Club, will row at Henley, England, next week, with the varsity, jaysvees and freshmen in action at Poughkeepsie Saturday afternoon.
